Hope College — Holland, Michigan

FEBRUARY 17, 1956

Study Plan Changed

The recent experiment in Hope's library, with the procedure of withholding active discipline and observing students and recording the number talking, has proved measurably successful, and the library has recently issued a second statement that it will continue the no supervision plan, with a change in procedure.

The problem which the library staff faces is to create a proper study atmosphere where students are free to do the necessary talking. Therefore the procedure will be as follows: There will be continued observation by the library staff but they will record not the number of persons talking, but the number of persons disturbing others.

Mission Program Planned By Y's

The YMCA and YWCA will meet in a joint session Tuesday, February 28. A program on domestic missions has been planned which will include a guest speaker. The meeting is in keeping with the fact that February has been designated as Domestic Missions Month.

Mission Drive pledges are still being received by chapel monitors. It is hoped that students will pay their pledges as soon as possible and that those who have not filled out pledge cards will still contribute so that the goal of $2,000 may be realized.

For The Unemployed

This applies to the unemployed, and, at that, only to those who want to invest their summer vacations in an experience in living. Sure, there's work involved. Work that gives you contact with many people, that enables you to travel in the states, and over seas, that gives you opportunities in everything from teaching to building, and, that gives you the greatest, fullest pay envelope in return—a significant Christian experience.

There are countless ways and means. To mention a few—Ecumenical Work camps where you live every minute of your daily life with the native of the area you are in whether it be the Negroes of the deep South, or the Germans in a farm community in Germany. There is caravanning where you are provided with means and purposes, and travel the United States to work.

In fact, there's a whole bulletin board of suggestions, opportunities, information, and applications in the chapel basement. The best resource for information is Miss Marion Van Horne of the Youth Department of the Reformed Church in America. She will be on campus all day Monday and Tuesday, February 20, 21. Aside from taking an important part in the college program through chapel and Y, Miss Van Horne will be available during the afternoons to chat over coffee and give you all the details on some fabulous investment gains.

You cannot afford to miss at least discovering what the possibilities are. Mr. Hageman was explicit in this. So, for all unemployed, and you who are employed also, remember these dates for Miss Van Horne's visit to campus, and see the bulletin board in the chapel basement, too.

Don't Pass The Buck--Give It!

Remember the World University Service that you read about in last week's ANCHOR? A WUS campaign has been inaugurated on our campus under the auspices of the Student Council. Considering the campaign slogan, "Don't Pass the Buck—Give It!", what does this mean to you as a student at Hope College? It means that you will have an opportunity to help other colleges and students who may not receive assistance from any other source. And from an immediate standpoint, it means fun for everybody!

The WUS committee has planned a dance for February 17, the Friday night of Dutch Treat Week. Now for a most pertinent question—would you be interested in staying out until 12:30 A.M.? "Late per" will be extended to dormitory women on that Friday evening. For this privilege the dorm women will be asked to contribute one penny for each minute after twelve that they stay out. Only 30¢ for an extra half-hour—not bad, huh?

The entire WUS campaign promises to be an unusual one. The committee, headed by Mary Jo Hoppers, is attempting to make it not only profitable but enjoyable as well. The goal is to raise $500 by the middle of March. To do this an extensive campaign will occur from March 5 to 10. But before that particular week there will be projects similar to the first one. So look for more Penny-a-Minute nights! And keep your eyes open for the WUS slogan "Don't Pass the Buck—Give It!" You will see it often!

Anchor Liners -- Note Deadline

The second issue of the Anchorline will be published next month in the Anchor. Your contributions of essays, short stories, poems, character sketches, etc., will be gladly accepted by the staff.

This year's Creative Writing class under the guidance of Miss Pickens is taking up the project started by last semester's Advanced Composition class. The idea for a literary supplement was first formed by Dr. Talboert's Creative Writing class of a year ago. Those of you who read the first issue witnessed the inauguration of the venture. This next issue will be even better.

All students are urged to submit any material they have written. It should be turned into the English office, Room 210, by March 1. The Anchorline staff hopes that the supplement's will meet everyone's approval and invites all students and faculty to offer suggestions and criticisms.

Hope Sweeps Field in Speech Meet

I. R. C. Lists Spring Conference Dates

The International Relations Club held its 2nd meeting of the second semester on Wednesday, February 15. Professor Wolters, Dr. Brown, and Eugene TeHennepe discussed opportunities for study, travel, and active participation in conferences in the United States and abroad.

It was announced that delegations will be sent to the Little United Nations Assembly, which will be held at the University of Indiana March 2 to 4. In this conference, in which each participating school will represent a different nation, Hope has agreed to fill the Netherlands chair. It is also expected that a delegation will be sent to the Midwestern Regional Conference of International Relations Clubs, March 16-17, which will be held at MacMurray College in Jackson, Illinois. This meeting will center around the theme "Power Politics or One World." A third conference of the year is the Ninth Annual Conference of the American IRC. This will meet in Washington, Philadelphia, and New York April 2 to 9.

Formal Plans Given

The student council has announced that its social committee has planned an all-college formal party, to be held on Friday, March 2, 1956 from 9:00 until 12:00 p.m. in the Ladies Literary Club. The party will feature Lew Allen and his Orchestra, a program of outstanding entertainment, and light refreshments.

The office of the Dean of Women has granted 12:30 permission for all girls attending the formal, and the social committee has announced that attire will be semi-formal, which means that the women will wear formal, and the men have their choice of dark suits or formal wear. The price of $3.50 per couple does not include dinner, but will feature various kinds of entertainment during the evening.

Rabinofs Featured In Concert Series

Returning this year by popular request, the Rabinofs will present the fifth program in the Holland Civic Music Association's concert series. This concert will be presented next Tuesday, February 21st at 8:00 P.M. in the Civic Center.

The Rabinofs are a piano-violin duo when on tour; however each is a concert artist in his own right. Both Benno and Sylvia Rabinof have appeared as soloists with major symphony orchestras.

Benno Rabinof is the youngest remaining student of the late Auer, the foremost violin teacher of the country. He uses a rare Guarnerius violin valued at $50,000.

The concert itself will be divided into three parts with Benno and Sylvia each playing a solo group and then combining their talents in a third group of numbers.

All Entrants Place; 2 Enter Nationals As Result of State M.I.P.A. Contests

At the annual peace oratory and extempore speaking contests held last Saturday at Kalamazoo College, Kalamazoo, Michigan, Hope College swept the field of more than ten schools by placing entrants in all four contests. Carol Kuyper, competing in the Women's Extempore Speaking Contest, copped second place, while Penny Ramaker took third in Women's Oratory. Nathan Vander Werf and Robert Winter took first places in Men's Oratory and Extempore Speaking respectively.

These contests are held annually under the auspices of the Michigan

Intercollegiate Peace Association, with prizes being awarded by the Grand Domain in Michigan of the Knights of Pythias. Most of the M.I.A.A. Schools are represented, as well as Western Michigan College, Michigan State Normal School, Central Michigan College, the University of Detroit, Wayne University, and Michigan State University. Subjects of the orations were limited to various aspects of the peace-war problem, and extempore speaking topics covered a wide variety of questions dealing with the question of underdeveloped areas and their relation to world peace.

Penny's oration, "Windows to Peace", dealt with the problem of building for world peace upon the foundations of the home and family. Nathan's oration was entitled "Our Mistaken Enemy," and showed that our real foe is not Communism, but the forces of revolution which are afoot in the world of today. Carol spoke on "The Significance of Mau Mau," and Bob's speeches were on "Point IV as a Type of Aid," and "The U. N. Philosophy of Technical Assistance." Tape recordings of Nathan's oration and Bob's final speech have been sent to the national contest for consideration.

Mr. Paul Ried, of the Speech Department, who coached the quartet, said that to his knowledge this is the first time that Hope has entered four contestants in a state speech contest, and returned with four places.

Coming Trips Cited

Coming events in the speech department include a two-day debate tournament with Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant today and tomorrow, the state debate tournament at Michigan State University at East Lansing on the twenty-fifth of this month, and a week-long trip to Grove City, Pa., to attend the Province of the Lakes Convention of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic honorary.

Coming Events Listed By Music Department

The Music Department announces these coming events. Charles Lindahl will present his junior clarinet recital in the chapel the evening of February 23. Another program in the series of the faculty string quartet will be presented on Sunday afternoon, February 26.

Saturday, February 18, is the date of the Michigan State Junior and Senior Ensemble festival which will be held in the Holland schools this year. Because of the great numbers which are expected from the region, Hope's chapel will be used as well. The contest, an all day affair which is held annually, will consist of a number of events close to 2000, and will be judged by 24 judges.

P & M Presents

Lady Windemere's Fan, a comedy of social intrigue, has been selected as Palette and Masque's third production of the year. The play will be staged March 15, 16, 17 in the Little Theatre under the direction of Miss Elva Van Hartsma, assisted by student director Pete Kelley.

The scenes take place in an 18th century room and center around Lord Windemere, an aristocratic husband played by Tom Ten Hoeve; Lady Windemere, his spirited wife played by Marilyn Luidens, who is, although she is unaware of the fact, the daughter of a "good" woman with a bad reputation called Mrs. Erlynne, played by Ramona Te Grotenhuis. Al Timmer plays the charming but insincere Lord Darlington and Pete De Moya is cast as Mr. Cecil Graham, a gentleman who gets his fun at the expense of others.

Additional members of the cast, Del Farnsworth, Marlin Vander Wilt, Paul Koets, Henry Doeel, Connie Miller, Jocelyn Fryling, Nelvie Meerman, Marianne Hageman, Aileen McGoldrick, Una Hunt, and Jane Gouwens, add to the wit and humor and thus complete the picture of London life during that period.

The extravagant 18th century costumes are being rented from Eaves of New York. The lavish settings are the product of local artists.

Yugoslav Rep. To Visit Here

Under the auspices of the Cultural Programs committee in conjunction with the International Relations Club, Mr. Vilko Vinterhalter, Counsellor at the Yugoslav Embassy in Washington and Director of the Yugoslav Information Center in New York, will be on campus Wednesday and Thursday, February 29 and March 1. During the 4th hour assembly period on Wednesday, he will present an address entitled "Yugoslavia, The Bridge Between East and West." The question period on this subject will follow during the regular IRC meeting in the afternoon.

Mr. Vinterhalter has a distinguished record as journalist, lawyer, educator, and partisan fighter in Marshal Tito's forces. From 1941 until the end of the war he edited several Partisan papers.

Since the war he has continued his journalistic career, and has entered the field of education as well. He spent several years as professor of economics at the University of Belgrade, where he taught the Marxian theory.

The Week After

As Monday's chapel speaker said: "We're back in the old groove." Religious Emphasis Week has come to a close, and we can once again return to our comfortable pace of dozing through Chapel, and going about our busy lives as usual. But most of all, we can forget all about those little questions that were raised in our minds last week . . . we can patch up those worn places in our faith, and retire to our pet prejudices, our "everyday" faith, and our little religious cliques. Bully for the good old status quo.

We can . . . but we also cannot. Perhaps may and may not would be better, for it's really not a question of possibility but volition. To use a less delicate word than was used in Chapel, we may fall back into our well-worn rut, but we may also put into practice a few of the things we were supposed to have learned. The true test of whether or not Religious Emphasis Week was successful is not in the number of comments we make about how beautifully Mr. Hageman spoke, but in how we think and act a year from now. The Religious Emphasis Committee is making arrangements to have printed copies of Mr. Hageman's addresses made available to the student body. It might be a good idea for each of us to read them over once in a while. They might be enough of a lever to keep us out of that rut. You, too, can have your "faith lifted."

—R. A. W.

One-Eighteenth and No More Coffee

Last year's issues of the Anchor carried a column entitled "The Critical Angle," which were written primarily to enlighten the student body of the effect that various council actions would have upon the students in general. It was frankly critical, and aimed at keeping the council "on its toes." Criticism of the student council is quite easy, for most of the members have the school's best interests at heart. Naturally, these opinions differ, and the chance for error is always present.

But there arises at this point a valid question. Should the council be criticized by students who show little or no interest in its activities except alertness for a chance to drive a barb at some program? This year, a general student attitude of chronic apathy allowed two fine opportunities to slip through the fingers of the student council. One of these was the Civil Service Examination. Jean Kromann and Dave Van Eenenaam worked many hours to prepare this questionnaire, which was aimed at giving the council information to use as a basis of selecting persons for appointive office.

Fifty from Nine Hundred

The forms were passed out well over two weeks ago, together with a plea for thought and consideration in filling them out. Out of the nine hundred exams passed out, approximately fifty were returned. Certainly more than one-eighteenth of our students must be interested in student government, so why was there so little response?

Kosts Klose Kletz

Recently, Blue Key expended a good deal of time and a good deal more money to provide a comfortable student lounge in conjunction with the venerable Kletz. When this project was chosen, the members of Blue Key hoped that the lounge would augment the present facilities and provide an approach to a student union for Hope . . . not just a place where you could gulp a morning cup of coffee or an afternoon Coke, but a place to take a study break at night. Now perhaps boys who have "twenty-minute break" dates would prefer to spend half of that time rushing back and forth downtown, but we doubt it. Perhaps the Kletz has been giving counterfeit money in change . . . but we doubt that too. It's possible that no one goes out for coffee anymore . . . but if so, what's this Dutch school coming to?

When pressure was put on the Business Office to open the Kletz in the evenings, it was agreed that this could only be done so long as that enterprise at least broke even financially. For a while, everything was fine. But after Christmas vacation, business started to slip, and we have now slipped into the red. The Kletz will no longer be open in the evenings.

This brings up a disturbing, but necessary question. Is there any point to student government? Should the Administration suddenly eliminate the student council, and other organs of student government, the anguished cry from the students could probably be heard from

Voice of The Campus

Dear Editor:

In regard to an article which appeared in the Anchor on January 12, 1956, I am writing this letter. On that day, Letters To The Editor carried an article, "Council Responsible," commenting on the Christmas Banquet. I am deeply sorry for the fact that this banquet was an "unpleasant experience" for Christine K. Denny and Nick Pool and others.

The banquet was on my mind for weeks prior to its taking place. I prayed time and again that the Lord would make the Christmas Banquet an unforgettable witness for Christ on Hope's campus. I have asked the Lord to forgive me, and I am greatly sorry for offending anyone.

Sincerely,
The Rev. Don Brandt

It was with a great deal of regret that we said goodbye to the Rev. and Mrs. Howard Hageman on Friday morning. The week proved to be a wonderful and inspiring week. Now it's up to us to carry out the message of faith through our words and actions.

Let us first take a moment to thank our God for sending us disciples such as the Hagemans.

A week like this would have been impossible without the help of many people. A special word of appreciation goes to Dr. Lubbers who gave a considerable amount of advice when it was needed. Our thanks go to the general planning committee which included Christine Cloetingh, Margaret Hoppers, Donald Van Etten, Nell Salm, Carol Kuyper, Theodore Redding, Ann Bloodgood and Mr. Roger Rietberg who served in many capacities as organist and helper.

To those who helped in the chapel services we say thank you: Carol De Vries, John Soeter, Robert Ritsema, Lois Van Delinder, Larry De Witt, Gerald Kruijff, Carol Kuyper, Wilma Beets, Ann Bloodgood, the Chapel Choir under the direction of Dr. Robert Cavanaugh and the Women's Choir directed by Mr. Anthony Kooiker.

The vesper meditations offered a deeper meaning to the week. We'd like to thank Mr. Ver Beek, Dr. Folkert, Dr. Voogd and Mr. DeVette and all the students who participated.

A special word of appreciation goes to Dean Vander Lugt and the panel members including Art Jentz, Gene Te Hennepe, Betty Burnett and Anne De Pree.

To Dr. Voogd and Miss Reverts who planned the faculty-speaker meeting we say thanks.

The Communion Service which was the climax of the week could not have been possible without the help of Rev. Christian Walvoord, Mr. Roger Rietberg, the Choir, and our faculty members who serve on the Third Church consistory.

To the Y cabinets, Y advisors and all those who helped "behind the scenes" during Religious Emphasis Week we express our deep appreciation. Thank you one and all!

Kappa Delta News

Kappa Delta will meet Monday at 7:15 P.M. in the YW room at which time Mrs. Harvey Staal, missionary in Arabia now on furlough will show slides on missionary work in the Near East.

Devotions will be given by Diane Vicha and special music will be provided by Mary Alice Ferguson and Elsie Vande Zande.

Our missionary project will be chosen and plans will be made for the raising of funds for the project. All Hope women are encouraged to attend this inspirational meeting here to Grand Rapids. But when support is asked, the response is a feeble, lifeless murmur, scarcely audible in Van Raalte basement.

3 More Chances

It is a generally accepted theorem of political science, that people usually get about the kind of government that they deserve. So far, two projects have been dismal and utter failures. There are yet three chances for the student body to prove itself: Ratification of the proposed new constitution is coming up; . . . so is the all-college formal; . . . and so are student council elections in April. If you want student government, you still have ample opportunity to prove it. So before you raise that loud trumpet of criticism, take a look at your own interest in the council . . . and then get out and do something about it.

No Sense To Week's Expense

Hi! My name's Mary and I'm an average college coed. This past week has been the busiest one in my life. You guessed it . . . Dutch Treat Week. Now there's a lot of males on this campus with whom I've been dying to go out and so I did! For example . . . a typical day of the hectic week went like this:

7:30 a.m. — Pancake breakfast downtown (John)
8:00 a.m. — Chapel date in balcony (Bob)
8:30 a.m. — Pre-class coffee (Pete)
9:20 a.m.—Between class quickie coffee (Ron)
10:10 a.m.—Between class quickie coffee (Fred, Harry)
11:00 a.m.—Between class quickie coffee (? . . don't remember)
Noon-2 p.m.—Rest hour (needed it)
2:30 p.m.—Trip to bank.
3:30 p.m.—Movie matinee (basketball team)
6:00 p.m.—Dining out with piano instructor
7:00 p.m.—Coffee date
7:45 p.m.—Coke date
8:30 p.m.—Coffee date
9:45 p.m.—Coke date
10:00 p.m.—The end

BUSHED, BLOATED, BROKE!!!!

So the week went. And guess what? I don't have a single date for next week-end. Dutch Treat Week — Bah!

Parties, Projects and Politics Occupy Societies' Interest

Indeed it is a festive season for the sororities on campus. With the exception of the Dorians, who experienced an autumn formal, the sorority members are donning gowns and galavanting to formal events.

Last Friday evening, February 10, the Freshmen gals threw their winter party at the Pantlind in Grand Rapids. With Isla Van Eenennaam and Jan Mac Kay at the helm, it was a delightful affair.

Other formals include those of the Sorosites, Sibs, and Thetas. The Sorosites are to hold their gala affair at the Spring Lake Country Club on Saturday evening, February 18. Co-chairmen are Ruth Haadsma and Yvonne Nyenhuis.

Adding a new twist to the winter parties are the Sibs and Thetas. The sororities are combining their formals and the big, big party will be held in the Morton House in Grand Rapids on the 24th of February. The sororities have decided to dine separately but will mingle for the post dinner entertainment. Guiding the reins for the event are Jan Conklin, Thesaurian and Ethel Smith, Sibylline.

The Dephians as the Dorians are also juggling the winter formal-spicing informal routine. Saturday, February 18, is the date for the Delphi informal. On the agenda is an afternoon of tobaggoning at Echo Valley followed by a dinner and party at the Harris Hotel in Kalamazoo. Ethel Anne Peelen is the Informal General Chairman.

Another highlight in sorority life is the semester election A.S.A. officers. The Frosh girls elected Jan Van Peurse as President, Ingrid Braunchler as Veep, Jane Klaasen as Secretary, and Mary Osting as Treasurer.

Plans and financing for the Majid Tadayon Memorial have been completed by the Knickerbockers. Majid, who died in an U.S. 31 auto wreck in June, 1954, was a Knick brother from Teheran, Iran. A sum of one hundred and fifty dollars has been given to the library to be spent over a five year period for purchasing works on the Middle East.

With the electrical system and overhead lighting having been completed by the administration, KHN is back in the library basement to complete the co-operation study room project which will eventually provide room for 85-100 students.

The Red Cross has called for the replenishment of the only local walking blood bank. A day will soon be set aside for the fraternity members' donations. Jim Galer, Knick, is now directing the project.

Other recent fraternity appointments have been Bob VanderLugt, Penny Carnival, Karl Hoellrich, rushing; Al Hill and Bruce Brummels, Spring Party; and Bill Waggoner and Dick Morgan, underclass executive committee representatives.

The literary rushing meeting to be held tonight will be presented by Bob Williams, Nick Pool, Jim Kranendonk, and Dave Kinkema.

As is the custom of the Arcadians, the new officers were kept secret and revealed at the formal party. They are President, Jim Nevel; Vice President, Art Bieri; Secreary, John Ewing; Corresponding Secretary, John Van Dyke; Treasurer, Ed VanderKooy; Interfrat Council Representative, Jack Walchenbach; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Ken Kole and Ray Vinstra.

This year for the first time the Arkies under their new rushing rules chose an outstanding pledge from the new men that joined the fraternity. The name of this pledge will be inscribed on a plaque that is to hang in the fraternity house. The first name on that plaque is that of Gordon VerWoert.

With spring fast approaching the Fraters are eagerly looking forward to their annual variety show, "Frater Frolics." Jack De-

Free will direct the production this year, assisted by Larry Lup. Don Kroes will act as Business Manager. Tentative dates for the production are April 25, 27, 28.

At the present the Fraters are holding a series of meetings dealing with the different aspects of the frat which will culminate in the annual Washington Day Stag, February 23. In the first meeting of this series Dave Spaan gave an excellent history of the frat. Tonight Rev. Hinkamp will give a talk on the activities of the alumni. The last meeting in this series will be the Washington Day Stag. Tom Carey and Pete Bylenga are co-chairmen of the stag.

HOPE WHAPS CALVIN --- DUTCHMEN PULL UPSET OF YEAR

Hope Downs Alma 86-68, Extends Victory Streak to Three Games

Dutch Stop Albion In Overtime

Hope College's cagers put on a tremendous team effort to edge Albion 80-77 in an overtime game. The Dutch worked together on every play and maintained their composure under pressure.

The game had 1,300 Albion fans on their feet most of the time as the lead changed hands ten times. The biggest lead any team had in the game was a six point margin.

Albion held a 45-44 halftime lead and shot ahead to a 50-44 margin right after the second half tip-off. However Hope caught fire and when the smoke had cleared the Dutch were ahead by five points with eight minutes remaining. The Britons then proceeded to whittle away at the lead and went ahead by three points with three minutes to go. Benes, who was the hero of the regulation game, then hit on two hook shots and two free throws while Albion was scoring two points to knot the count at 73-all as the game ended.

After Albion took a 77-75 lead in the overtime Whitey Riemersma sank a jump shot and added a foul toss with forty-five seconds to play to put Hope out front. Bob Ritsema came through with a tip-in in the final five seconds to give Hope the victory.

Hannett of Albion was the game's high scorer with 34 points. Benes led the Hope scorers with 26 and was followed by co-captains Molenaar and Riemersma who had 17 and 15 points respectively.

Dutch Trounce Olivet

"Everybody scores" was the cry as Hope set Olivet flat on its back with an overwhelming 96-53 victory with every Dutch player scoring at least six points. Hope thanks mainly to the efforts of the reserves who played most of the game, finished with a 43 point margin which was the most one-sided victory recorded this season.

The game at first appeared to be a very low scoring contest with Hope leading 12-5 midway in the first half. Playing continued to be extremely slow through the entire first. Hope tried but was unable to increase their edge over the Comets to more than six or seven points, for most of the half it was much less. The Dutch controlled the ball during the half but shooting was so inefficient that this advantage proved effective only in stopping Olivet from increasing their score. At halftime Hope was out in front 30-24.

Hope started the second half with a bang and in three minutes the score skyrocketed to 41-28 and from then on Hope's lead continued to spiral as the Dutch enjoyed one of the best floor averages of the season. The Dutch scored 50% of their shots in the second half as compared to a dismal 26% in the first. Benes led the Dutch in scoring with 22 points followed by Whitey Riemersma who came through with 15. This contest marked Hope's highest scoring total made in the conference this year.

Coach John Visser's Dutchmen ran into a zone defense set-up primarily to stop Paul Benes when they met the Alma Scots. After six and one-half minutes of play in the first half it appeared that the Scots' had accomplished their purpose as Paul had three personals. However, the Whiz Kids, or whatever name you choose to call the quintet composed of Riemersma, Vander Lind, Thomson, Buurama, and Woodcock, proceeded to make the net sing as they built up a wide lead over the Scots, much to the amazement of the Alma team.

The entire team should be complimented for the manner in which they responded when it appeared that we would be hurt immeasurably with both of our tall rebounders on the bench.

Whitey Riemersma, high scorer with 21 points, played a fine game at the guard spot. Although Benes was able to play only about fifteen minutes he was still able to dunk 13 points. Junior Buurama contributed 12 points most of them coming on jump shots from the corner. The fan's darling for the evening was Dave Woodcock who, although a foot shorter than Benes, did some excellent work on the boards and contributed a few fancy passes while adding twelve points to the cause. Bob Ritsema played his usual consistent brand of ball whether playing guard or center as he contributed eight points during the evening's competition.

Alma seemed to pass very well but in the long run it was Hope's superior depth which enabled them to come off with their third victory in succession.

Arkies Roll Out To Lead Bowling

Having defeated their toughest competition already it appears that the Arkies are well on their way to another bowling championship. They have won two more games than their nearest rivals, the Cosmos and Emmies, having out-pointed both of them. The Arkies have lost only one point thus far that being in the past week when they defeated the Cosmos two to one.

The battle for second place should be pretty well decided this coming Monday when the Emmies and Cosmos meet. The winner will in all probability receive second place points toward the All-Sports Trophy.

With two more days of competition before Bowling is completed the Arkies have 8 points, the Emmie and Cosmos have 6 points, the Knicks 4 points, the Fraters 3 points, and the Indies none.

Through The Keyhole

Now there was among my friends at Hope, a man whose name was Smith, and he was from Crosshicky, Tech. And he told me often of Crosshicky; what a wonderful place it was, and how everyone was happy there, and the basketball team always won, and how sorry he was that he had ever left there, and above all how he wanted to go back to Crosshicky. And when the basketball team lost, or seemingly ignorant substitutions were made, or someone missed a free throw, or the students were rude or brown-nosed, he told me that such things did not happen at Crosshicky. And this continued for night onto three years, while he was here at Hope, and the older he grew the more he talked of Crosshicky, so that I told him I hoped that when he died he would GO to Crosshicky.

Now it came to pass that he prospered, so that when he became a Senior he left this place and went back to Crosshicky to spend his last semesters in peace, and to graduate there. And we all bade him farewell, with something of sorrow and something of relief.

And it came to pass that at the end of six weeks he moved back again; and he was tenfold more happy to get back than he had been to go away.

And when evening came I called upon him. And I said, "Old Friend, tell me on the level—what is wrong with Crosshicky?"

And he said unto me, "Speak not to me of Crosshicky, least I do thee harm. It is the toughest joint this side of States Prison. The dear people whom I knew have all graduated or moved away, and those in their places are unneighborly and snobbish. The school spirit is terrible, the academic rating degrading, and the players are all boozehounds. They do all sorts of outrageous stunts, and the kids are the limit. I have come back to dwell in the place where I have spent the happiest years of my life; and I have but one favor to ask of my old friends—that ye never speak to me again of Crosshicky."

Now as I walked home I said to myself, "It is just as I suspected all the time. Yes, there are many students who yearn for some Crosshicky or other who could be decently happy where they are if they would but make it their business." And I said, "Let not Hope ever be allowed to be a Crosshicky to anyone."

Fraters Out Front In Basketball

The Intramural Basketball championship could well have been decided this past week with the Cosmos and Fraters facing each other in both leagues. By virtue of two wins over the Knicks, in the previous week's play, the Cosmos were able to move up one full game on the leading Fraters. Meanwhile the Fraters were victorious over the Sem, but were defeated by the Indies in a close game. Thus the two games this week will probably decide which team walks off with the basketball championship for 1955-56.

In "A" League play, the Cosmos dumped the Knicks with a strong second half, 62-37. Pete De Pree, Bill Sandahl, and John Klaasen scored 16, 14, and 12 points respectively to led the Cosmos attack. Bob Vanderlugt netted 18 for the Knicks. The Emmies, led by Harold Ritsema with 23, and Wayne Ebbens with 22, overpowered the Arkies, 57-30. Art Bieri pumped in 14 for the Arkies. The Fraters outlasted the Seminary, 59-50. Harry Voss with 21 and Matt Peelen with 16 were the Fraters' offensive powers. Jim Van Hoeven took overall high scoring honors, tallying 22 points for the Seminary.

In "B" League competition, the Cosmos powered to a 53-37 victory over the Knicks. Leading the Cosmos scoring were Rog Borr and Warren Plaggemars who netted 12 apiece. Jim Galer's 11 was high for the Knicks. Sparked by the dazzling marksmanship of newcomer Warren Vanderhill, the Indies scored an unexpected victory over the Fraters, 49-47. Vanderhill's 21 points took high scoring honors in the game. Milt Lubbers notched 18 for the Fraters. The Emmies squeaked by the Arkies in a close contest, 35-34. Ted Redding and Norman Boeve sank 12 apiece for the Emmies, while Doug Vander Hey led the Arkies with 12.
